Fukushima Prefectural Museum of Art

Jakuchu is Our Contemporary.

Jakuchu Ito (1716-1800) is a painter who was born in Kyoto in the Mid-Edo period. On the one hand, Jakuchu focuses on the works with painstaking lines and brilliant colors; but on the other hand, he also left numerous ink-paintings with the unconstrained brushwork and humorous expression. In 2013, Fukushima Prefectural Museum held the exhibition “Jakuchu’s here!” with the cooperation of Mr.&Mrs. Brice. In this exhibition, we will show about 100 works with a different perspective from the last time, and introduce the attraction of Jakuchu’s art again. It will be a great pleasure to deliver the lively energy with a peace of mind through inspiration and delight of his works.
